A Message From Pastor Andy Anderson

All human beings share one thing in common; God created each and every one of you and gave you your life, body, mind, and soul.

He gave us the freedom of thought, will, and action, freely allowing each one of us to think and do as we please.

His spirit dwells and lives within you, and within each and every Human Being. Every day you rise and every hour you're conscious, He hears your thoughts, sees your actions, and feels your emotions.

If you're happy, God feels your joy, if you're unhappy, He feels your sadness, if you're insecure, He feels your anxiety, if you're under stress, He feels your strain, and if you're depressed or in pain, He feels your anguish.

The fact is, God wants you to be happy every day. He wants you to be filled with joy, to radiate love and kindness, and to enjoy each day of your life to its fullest potential.

God's Being and His very essence is composed of love, warmth, joy, caring and nurturing.

God is your companion and He is with you every day. It is His desire to help you, so that you can live each day of your life with happiness and fulfillment. However, God does not force Himself upon you, but rather, He waits for your invitation.

When God created you, he gave you a wonderful gift, a discerning intellect and complete freedom of thought and action.

A Message From Pastor Andy Anderson

God never interferes with that virtue. He lets you think and do whatever you choose each day of your life.

So the level of joy or sadness that you feel each day is totally controlled by your own thoughts and actions.

Most people focus their thoughts and actions on earthly, temporal, carnal desires and activities, and very little on spiritual qualities. They allow themselves to succumb to a variety of temporal temptations that controls their daily life. These temptations dominate their thoughts and actions and they lose focus on spirituality and the wonders of God.

Don't let this happen to you, give God an equal amount of your time. Focus your thoughts on Him, study His words and believe in His Kingdom, His Angels and in His Son Jesus Christ. And most importantly, keep your faith strong at all times, no matter what happens in your life from day to day.

In addition, try to do one Godly act of kindness each day, do not let yourself become judgmental or overly vain, always try to soften your anger, and never use foul or profane language in your communications.

If you can do these things, you will have a pleasant, joyful and fulfilling life. And even more important, you will gain salvation, rebirth from death, acquire a new perfect ageless body, be given immortality and live in a Godly paradise environment forever.
